JOKE OF THE MONTH

An elderly man in Phoenix calls his son in New York and says, "I hate to ruin your day, but I have to tell you that your mother and I are divorcing, forty-five years of misery is enough." "Pop, what are you talking about?" the son screams. "We can't stand the sight of each other any longer," the old man says. "We're sick of each other, and I'm sick of talking about this, so you call your sister in Chicago and tell her," and he hangs up. Frantic, the son calls his sister, who explodes on the phone. "Like heck they're getting divorced," she shouts, "I'll take care of this." She calls Phoenix immediately, and screams at the old man, "You are NOT getting divorced. Don't do a single thing until I get there. I'm calling my brother back, and we'll both be there tomorrow. Until then, don't do a thing, DO YOU HEAR ME?" and hangs up. The old man hangs up his phone and turns to his wife. "Okay," he says, "They're coming for Thanksgiving and paying their own fares. Now what do we tell them for Christmas?"

NEWS OF THE WEIRD

The family of Kai Halvorsen of Lillestrom, Norway, planning a holiday in Thailand, feared that their bulldog, Igor, would be traumatized, having never been left alone. Halvorsen and a friend arranged with Labben Kennel to make a replica of the family living room to calm Igor's anxiety. The two men painted the walls the same shade of gray, brought in the family couch, built a replica coffee table, and moved in Igor's bed, carpet, pillows and blankets. (However, according to the friend, Igor spent much of the holiday cavorting outside with his new friend, Helga, the St. Bernard.) [United Press International, 9-8-2014]

COMMENTS FROM THE PAST

"We don't like their sound, and guitar music is on the way out." - Decca Recording Co. rejecting the Beatles, 1962.

MORON

After being arrested just before midnight walking through the Walmart in Tega Cay, S.C., wearing nothing but a pair of shoes, Kevin Hughes, 36, said he was embarrassed, but had an explanation. "I've had a problem with drugs in the past. I still like to do Ecstasy once in a while," he said. "I accidentally got methamphetamine instead and it really made me crazy." He was charged with disorderly conduct, and bailed out of jail the next day.

ARE YOU SERIOUS?

At least nine students at New Smyrna Beach (Fla.) High School complained that money was disappearing from their lockers during gym class on the order of $1,000. It just wouldn't do to put security cameras in a locker room, so a student worked with a school resource officer to put a "bait" wallet in a locker with $141 cash in it sprinkled with luminescent powder from an "ultraviolet detection kit" to coat the hands of the culprit. They dubbed it "Operation Sticky Fingers" and waited. Sure enough, after a few days the bait money went missing, and phase 2 went into operation: sheriff's deputies shined a black light on the hands of all the students that had access to the locker room that day to see who got the powder on their hands. Every student came up clean. Deputies then checked the hands of faculty, and sure enough, PE teacher and football coach Rodney Barnes, 43, came up positive for the powder. He admitted to at least some of the thefts, and was booked for burglary and grand theft. After Barnes bailed out of jail, he resigned from the school.
